Continuation of Disposition of Claims: Claims subject to restriction and/or election requirement are 1-3,6-12,16,18-47,49-54,57,59,60,63-65 and 79-85.

Election/Restrictions

1. Receipt and entry of the reply and amendments filed on February 24, 2010 (and previously on December 16, 2009) is hereby acknowledged.

2. Claims 1 through 3, 5 through 66, 74, 77, 78, 80 through 82, and 86 were previously withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to the various nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the replies filed on August 19, 2008 and on December 31, 2008.

3. However, in the reply and amendments filed on February 24, 2010 (and previously on December 16, 2009), applicants have amended previously withdrawn base claims 1 and 52 in order to make these readable on the elected fifth species.

4. Claims 19 through 23, 29 through 47, 49 through 51, 63, and 80 through 82 now stand withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to the various nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the replies filed on August 19, 2008 and on December 31, 2008.

5. Upon reconsideration in view of the above amendments to the previously withdrawn claims, an additional restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

I. Claims 1 through 3, 6 through 12, 16, 18 through 47, 49 through 54, 57, 59, 60, and 63 through 65 (of which claims 19 through 23, 29 through 47, 49 through 51, and 63 are already stand withdrawn as being drawn to various non-elected species), drawn to an evaporator including an intermediate liquid fluent heat exchange material and a wick, classified in class 165, subclass 104.26.

II. Claims 79 through 85 (of which claims 80 through 82 already stand withdrawn as being drawn to various non-elected species), drawn to a method of transferring heat using an intermediate liquid fluent heat exchange material and including means to move the heat exchange material in a liquid state, classified in class 165, subclass 104.22.

6. Inventions II and I are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another and materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case, the apparatus that is Invention I as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process than that which is Invention II as claimed, namely a process which does not necessarily require pumping the liquid from the liquid flow channel through the primary wick but rather one where the liquid flows into the wick due to the action of gravity. Alternately, the method that is Invention II as claimed can be practiced by another and materially different apparatus than that which is Invention I as claimed, such as one which necessarily includes pumping means to move the heat exchange fluid.

7. Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

(a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;

(b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;

(c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);

(d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;

(e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

8. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

9. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
